

ABANDON HOPE OF FINDING BODIES OF PLANE CREW

Charred Fragments of Samoan Clipper Indicate Explosion

SOME CLOTHING OF CREW IS FOUND

Pages of Engineering Log and Other Papers Among Wreckage

By The Associated Press.
PAGO PAGO, Samoa, Jan. 13.—Clear indication that the giant Samoan Clipper and her crew of seven were destroyed in a fire and explosion was brought to Pago Pago today by the mine-sweeper Avocat.

The naval craft returned to port with charred fragments of the flying boat after an all day search of the oil slick 12 miles off Pago Pago where the all-metal trans-Pacific plane crashed in flames Tuesday.

Every item recovered showed signs of an internal explosion. All were charred, burned and covered with aluminum powder.

Because of the condition of the fragments, no hope was held of recovering the bodies of Capt. Edwin C. Musick, 43-year-old Pan American Airways ace, and his crew of six from the shark infested waters. The Clipper carried no passengers.

The plane caught fire while dumping excess gasoline preparatory to landing at Pago Pago to repair a broken oil line after starting out on a flight for Auckland, N. Z. It crashed in a thousand fathoms of water.

Clothing Is Found
Wreckage found by the Avocat included:

A coat belonging to Radio Officer T. J. Findley, 29, of Alameda, Calif. It showed evidence of holes blown through it. A wing emblem was the identifying mark on the coat.

Trousers belonging to J. A. Brooks, 38, of Honolulu, assistant engineering officer. It was identified by a tie clasp in the pocket. The clasp was bent.

Pages of the engineering log and other papers.

The plane's navigating desk. Bits of navigators' charts. Many small wood fragments from the inside of the plane.

A drawer.

The surface of the water was covered with hundreds of small fragments conceded by searchers to be fragments of the fuselage.

As the tragedy was reconstructed, gasoline being dumped was vaporized and ignited, presumably by a hot exhaust pipe. Whether an explosion occurred in midair or after the 21-ton all-metal flying boat hit the water was not hazarded by authorities here. If the story told by natives is true, the plane or gasoline and oil from its tanks, must have burned on the surface of the water. They told of seeing a large volume of black smoke rise from the water at the time the plane disappeared.

Official statements of Pan American Airways and naval officers issued before the fragment.

DECLINE OF FRANC IS DISTURBING
By The Associated Press.
PARIS, Jan. 13.—Members of the cabinet announced today that Premier Camille Chautemps had decided to take the government's grave labor and monetary problems before the chamber of deputies.

The announcement came after a special cabinet session that lasted almost three hours.

Although political circles speculated on chances of a cabinet resignation, the ministers declared there had been no decision to resign.

"We are still ministers," said Max Dormoy, minister of the interior. He announced the premier would make a declaration before the chamber later today on the cabinet's difficulties arising from labor troubles and a weakened franc.

The franc dropped throughout the day's trading on the bourse and the official closing quotations were 29.93 francs to the dollar and 149.50 to the pound. Wednesday's closings were 29.5375 and 147.63.

Cabinet members said Chautemps planned to ask a unanimous vote of confidence in the chamber session. This demand would be made after reading of the declaration, they said.

Finance Minister Georges Bonnet declared the ministers had rejected unanimously any idea of exchange control.

He said the premier would make this clear in his declaration.

PIONEER IN PHONE SERVICE IS DEAD

By The Associated Press.
TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press)—Hugh Neilson, a pioneer in telephone communications, died today at the age of 93.

Three years after Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1874, Neilson, then a telegraph operator, became manager of the Toronto Telephone and Despatch Company.

He was said to be the world's longest continuous telephone subscribers. He lived until his death in the home where his telephone—one of the first four in Toronto—was installed.

DAN M. NEE IN TALK ON TAXES TO KIWANIANS

Internal Revenue Collector Asserts 90 Per cent of Taxpayers Honest

Ninety per cent of the nation's taxpayers are honest, and the remainder who fall into the classes of tax avoiders or tax evaders are responsible for the technical tax laws required by the government to checkmate tax evasions, declared Dan M. Nee, of Kansas City, collector of internal revenue, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Hotel Bothwell this noon.

The speaker was introduced by Edward Mullaley, program chairman. His talk dealt principally with the problems of the revenue collector's office and the desire of the department's personnel to assist the taxpayers in the preparations of their tax returns.

Mr. Nee called attention to the economical operation of his department in relation to the amount of taxes collected, not alone on voluntary payments, but on diligence in ferreting out evasions and going after delinquents. He expressed the opinion that if state, county and city tax collecting agencies exercised as much diligence in their collections as the revenue department, there wouldn't be so much "taxes receivable" on the books. Raising of valuations and rates to obtain more money is not effective if the money isn't collected, he said.

A letter from the Rev. A. W. Kokenkoff who is on leave visiting in Texas, was read. He expressed pleasure in having available Kiwanis officers and directors' pictures clipped from a recent issue of The Sedalia Democrat.

Guests were as follows: R. K. Brady and W. L. McIntyre, of Jefferson City, and Joe V. Vandiver, of Kansas City, all deputy collectors of internal revenue; L. L. Studer, Sedalia, and W. E. Salisbury, of Chicago, who entertained briefly with a few magician's tricks.

R. K. BARDWELL DIES AT HIS HOME HERE

Robert K. Bardwell, 69 years old, well known Sedalian, passed away at the family home, 215 West Tenth street, about 10:35 o'clock Wednesday night following an illness of several months.

Mr. Bardwell was the father of Elbert Bardwell who was killed south of Sedalia, September 26, 1926, and who, according to his statements, avenged the death of his son by killing Claude Wilkerson at Second street and Ohio avenue, later to be acquitted by a jury in circuit court.

Mr. Bardwell was born at Tipton in Moniteau county. He had been a Sedalia resident many years.

Surviving Mr. Bardwell are his widow, Mrs. Mary C. Bardwell, and four daughters, Mrs. Clarence Hiltberg, 636 East Sixth street, Miss Mabel, Miss Alberta Jean and Miss Blanche Bardwell all of the family home.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral chapel.

It will remain there until 10 o'clock Friday morning when it will be taken to the family home to be there until the funeral hour, 10 o'clock Saturday morning, when it will again be taken to the McLaughlin chapel for funeral services to be conducted at that hour by the Rev. Quincy R. Wright, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Pallbearers will be Dr. George F. Townsend, Leslie Hale, Harry Collins, J. L. Hiltberg, Amiel Lueking and Mr. Ott.

Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Named Administratrix.
Letters on the estate of Mrs. Ella Willene Krum were issued in the probate court Thursday to her mother, Mrs. Ella Phillips.

Marriage License Issued
Albert G. Beecroft and Jessie Ashcraft, both of St. Louis.

FIND MARKETING OF "BABY BONDS" TO BE EXPENSIVE

Creates Interest In Government Debt Service Official Says

SAVINGS PLANNED ON SOCIAL SECURITY

Secretary Morgenthau In Defense of the Use of Funds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Records of a congressional committee disclosed today that two administration activities—selling "baby bonds" and collecting social security taxes—are proving unusually expensive.

Edwin L. Kilby, assistant commissioner of the treasury's public debt service, told the house appropriations committee the small denomination bond program had cost about $3,606,870 from 1935 to 1937 and that it would cost approximately $6,095,000 during the next two years.

"It is true that they are an expensive security to market," Kilby said, "but I do not believe any security has been better marketed or more widely spread among the population of our country. They create an interest in government, I believe."

Later in the hearings, Frederick I. Evans, budget officer of the internal revenue bureau told the committee, in response to a question by Rep. Ludlow (D-Ind) as to whether the social security taxes cost more to collect than other taxes, that the bureau spent $144 to collect each $100 in social security and railroad retirement taxes.

Step For Big Saving
The committee learned, however, the bureau hoped to save about $4,000,000 annually by having the social security tax returns filed on a quarterly basis instead of monthly.

Secretary Morgenthau offered a bristling defense of the use of funds derived from the social security tax.

"We are not only complying with the letter of the law but with the spirit of the social security act," he said.

"As those funds come in, they go into the general fund and we issue special interest-bearing treasury obligations as evidence of the investment of the funds. In this fiscal year it is estimated that there will be available for investment somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000 of social security funds."

Money Being Used
"Some people who do not want to understand it say that this money is sterilized and that we are not using it. When we explain that we are using it, because it is in the general fund, and if we did not use it, it would be piling up a fund of $1,000,000,000, they criticize us for using it. We are doing just exactly what the law says we should do."

Morgenthau said the fund is handled just like all retirement funds for government employees.

In another section of the committee testimony was a report that the treasury had received about $2 for every $1 spent in an emergency income tax survey and $4 for every dollar used to check up on miscellaneous tax evaders from September 3, 1935, to October 31, 1937.

MOTION TO QUASH PANEL OF JURYMEN
A motion was filed in the circuit court this morning in the case of the State of Missouri versus John Edward Smith, asking the court to quash the panel of jurymen drawn to serve during the January term of court, because of alleged failure to place the names of colored citizens in the jury wheel. George W. Anson, Smith's attorney, filed the motion.

The motion states that for more than one hundred years Pettis county has had a large male population of colored citizens, qualified and capable of serving as jurymen, that the names of any colored citizens have not been placed in the jury wheel, from which the jury list for January was drawn.

The defendant, John Edward Smith, charged with taking a quantity of canned fruit from a home, alleges through the attorney that because of colored citizens in the jury wheel he is being discriminated against. He asks the court to discharge the panel of the jury and summon a new jury to try his case.

Admitted To Hospital
Will Cook, of Smithton, was admitted to the Bothwell hospital for surgery.

Ill With Pneumonia
Ellis Scott of R. F. D. No. 4, Sedalia, is ill at his home due to an attack of pneumonia.

NOYES TO RETIRE AS PRESIDENT OF A. P.

By The Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Frank E. Noyes of Washington announced today his retirement from the presidency of the Associated Press, at the expiration of his present term. He has held the position through thirty-eight eventful years of newspaper history.

To the board of directors, in session here, Mr. Noyes disclosed his decision not to accept reelection, under any circumstances, at the expiration of his present annual term in April. After his long service, he said, he felt entitled to pass on to younger hands a task to which he has devoted himself since his 30's. On July 7, next he will be 75.

The board unanimously expressed regret at his withdrawal which means the end of one of the most notable tenures in American journalism. His present and last term of office as president will extend through the annual meeting of members in April, and his successor will be elected by the board immediately thereafter.

Mr. Noyes will continue as president of the Evening Star at Washington. Asked today whether he would permit himself to be considered for continuing service on the board of the Associated Press, he said he would leave that to the membership at large, which will vote for directors at the April meeting.

GROUP BE CHOSEN FOR DRAFTING OF ROAD PROGRAM

Knotty Problem Faced In Cutting Expenditures For This Year

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 13.—Selection of a committee to draft a new state highway program will be made here tomorrow afternoon at a meeting of the Citizens Road Association of Missouri—described by its president, Hugh Stephens, as "one of the most important in the road building history of Missouri."

A sub-committee, headed by R. W. Brown of Carrollton, will meet late today to formulate a statement of principles to guide a future program.

This group, named at the association's annual meeting last October 12, has about completed its report but will give "everybody in the state interest in road building" an opportunity, Stephens said, to present his views.

Stephens, Jefferson City banker and former member of the highway commission, said the committee to be named tomorrow will decide, among other things, whether to recommend placing of a highway program on the ballot by initiative in the November election this year.

A knotty problem facing road boosters and the state highway commission is the necessity for cutting expenditures in 1938 because of the lack of any further bond sale proceeds.

This is the first year additional revenues beyond current receipts have not been available since adoption of the $60,000,000 bond issue in 1920. A $75,000,000 issue followed in 1928 but revenues from this source ended last year.

A $2,000,000 increase in bond maturity charges in 1938 raised the total of bond interest and retirement payments to $9,112,009 for the year. The commission must meet these payments, as well as maintenance and new construction costs, out of current receipts.

SMITH-COTTON WINS SPELLING CONTEST
The Smith-Cotton students who represented the high school over KFRU in the spelling match against Hickman high school at Columbia Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock won the match by a close margin of 10-11.

The students who represented the high school were: Annabelle Hugelman, Bessie Rae Hurt, sophomore; Mary Hazel and Violet Whiteman, juniors; Jane Brown and Stanton Hudson, seniors.

The word that felled all the students but one was the word "squeezee". Mary Hazel of Sedalia spelled the word correctly, which won the contest for Smith-Cotton. Other words that the students on both sides had difficulty with were: soldier, hippopotamus, checker-board and Allegheny.

The Sedalia students were accompanied to Columbia by J. E. Kennedy of the high school faculty.

PROPOSE HEALTH NURSE IN COUNTY

Possibility of employing a full time county health nurse, half of whose salary would be paid by the state, was proposed this morning to the Pettis County court by a committee representing the Pettis County Tuberculosis Society, I. H. Reed, president, C. L. Hanley, Arthur Hoffman, Joe Rosenthal and Mrs. P. R. Burford; County Superintendent of Schools C. F. Scotten and Miss Mamie McCormick, representing the Parent Teachers' association.

The committee in presenting the proposal suggested that the tuberculosis society would assume a share of the county's portion of the salary payment, if the court approves. It now has the matter under advisement.

A full time nurse would devote herself to investigation of health conditions in the county, particularly in the schools.

The approval of the county court is first sought before the committee takes up the matter in more detail. Without approval of the court, the present nurse employment proposal is a dead issue. If one can be employed through state and county financial assistance, then a program of cooperation with the physicians of the county can be worked out.

The ultimate plan would be to have the nurse directed by an advisory committee of the medical association and other organizations having an interest in this county health program.

FORMER SEDALIAN GEORGE BARNETT TAKES OWN LIFE

Body Found Hanging In Basement of Home In St. Louis

George Barnett, 55, a former Sedalian, in recent years a St. Louis attorney, hanged himself Wednesday afternoon in the basement of his home, 906 Moreland avenue, Glendale, St. Louis.

His wife, Mrs. Barnett and a niece, Mrs. Barnett Evans, of St. Louis, were in Sedalia for a short time Wednesday afternoon en route to Knob Noster. Mrs. Barnett's former home. They visited with Mr. Barnett's brother, Lawrence Barnett, Sedalia attorney.

Mr. Barnett's body was found by his nephew, Barnett Evans, a reporter for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, who had gone to his uncle's home in the morning to spend a few days while Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Evans visited in Knob Noster. He found the body, suspended by a clothesline from a rafter about 5:25 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Evans went for a walk with Mr. Barnett, who had been afflicted with a nervous ailment for several months, returning about 12:30 p. m. Evans said his uncle seemed in better spirits than on many occasions recently. He said Mr. Barnett went to bed on their return and that he, too, went to sleep after determining that his uncle was sleeping.

When he awoke after 5 p. m., he said, he noticed his uncle's bed empty, and a few minutes later discovered the body. He called the Glendale police, who sent a fire department inhalator. It was not used because two physicians pronounced Mr. Barnett dead. They said he had been dead about two hours.

Jumps From Stove
Evans said his uncle evidently had jumped from a gas stove after placing the rope around his neck. A neighbor boy, James Parkes, 740 Sappington road, St. Louis, helped him take down the body.

Mr. Barnett had law offices with his son, William C. Barnett, in the Title Guaranty Building. His recent illness had prevented him from practicing.

He is survived by his widow, his son, who lives at 931 Brownell avenue, Kirkwood; three brothers, Bruce of Joplin, Paul of Kansas City and Lawrence of Sedalia, and a sister, Mrs. Edwin C. Evans of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Two other brothers, Carl and Phil, are deceased. His father was George W. Barnett, for many years a Sedalia attorney, now deceased.

He attended Missouri University. Lawrence Barnett went to St. Louis Wednesday night.

To Veterans Hospital
Harry E. Craddock, 616 West Cooper, left today for Excelsior Springs, Mo., to enter the U. S. Veterans hospital.

Condition Is Critical
Tracy Haggard, well known Pettis county resident, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday night, remains in a critical condition.

REPORT ARREST OF GENERAL HAN OVER INVASION

Fate of Governor of The Shantung Province Is Not Known

GAINS ARE MADE BY THE JAPANESE

British Protest on Failure of Japanese To Return Vessels

By The Associated Press.
SHANGHAI Jan. 13.—Chinese sources reported today General Han Fu-Chu, governor of Shantung province, had been arrested by order of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek for alleged failure to halt the Japanese invasion now rolling over China's "sacred province."

Official confirmation was lacking, and other reports said Han had flown to Suichow to confer with the Generalissimo on defense of the Lunghai railway.

But the sources reporting Han's arrest said the failure of his troops to halt Japan's southern thrust through Shantung had made such a defense difficult. They said Hans fate was not known.

Chinese reports from Hankow, one of China's provisional capitals, said the government had executed Chu Min-Yu, former general secretary of the executive Yuan (council), for activities aimed to undermine the authority of Generalissimo Chiang. Chu was a brother-in-law of Chiang-Wei, former foreign minister.

Chinese yesterday lost Tsining, 120 miles south of Tsinan, but said their forces threatened to trap Japanese there by an attack on Yenchow. Twenty miles north-west of Pukow, Chinese attacks along the Tsinpu from the west yielded three towns.

In eastern Shantung province, however, Japanese reported gains. Japanese army detachments newly landed at Tsingtao marched west 62 miles to assault Kaomi. Thus far in Shantung, a Japanese embassy spokesman said, retreating Chinese have destroyed Japanese properties valued at $290,000,000.

Friction at Shanghai
Once again friction resulted from action of Japanese forces at Shanghai. British naval authorities protested to Japanese because 12 British-owned lighters and five trucks commandeered by Japanese December 15 had not been returned. Japanese promised to give them back.

British consular officers at Nanjing reported two British embassy automobiles missing after Japanese occupation of the former Chinese capital. Japanese had returned three American embassy cars and 150 gallons of borrowed gasoline.

The Japanese embassy spokesman disclosed that United States and other foreign powers had been cautioned against commercial navigation of the Yangtze river. He explained that Japanese minesweepers had removed 25 Chinese mines but many more were known to have been dotted along the river's course.

United States naval authorities announced efforts to salvage the American gunboat Panay, sunk by Japanese bombs in the Yangtze river Dec. 12, had been abandoned after the ship's safe and official papers had been recovered.

"DING" DARLING TO SPEAK ON WILDLIFE
Jay N. (Ding) Darling, president of the General Wildlife Federation, Gov. Lloyd S. Stark and I. T. Bode, Missouri's new director of conservation, will be the principal speakers at a statewide meeting of the Missouri Conservation Federation in Jefferson City Tuesday, January 18, E. Sydney Stephens, chairman of the Missouri Conservation commission, announced from Columbia.

The federation, which was organized on a temporary basis more than three years ago to sponsor revision of the state's conservation laws, is expected to perfect a permanent organization and name officers at the Jefferson City meeting.

Chairman Stephens said that two of the principal matters of interest to be discussed at the meeting are the suit now pending in the supreme court to test the validity of the appointment of Bode, who was not a resident of the state at the time of his selection, and the plans of the conservation commission for reorganizing conservation work in Missouri. Recent appointments of commission employees are temporary, he said, and are subject to the employees meeting certain tests to which new applicants for positions with the commission also will be subjected.

THREE KILLED AS TRUCK COLLIDES WITH A BUS

VAN BUREN, Ark., Jan. 13.—(P)—Three Fort Smith youths lost their lives last night when their truck collided with a Missouri Pacific passenger bus near here.

William Paul Gaud, 17, and George Casey, 15, died on the way to a hospital. Richard Casey, 18, a relative of George, succumbed in a Fort Smith hospital without regaining consciousness. Occupants of the bus were not hurt.

Alliance To Meet.
The Ministerial Alliance will have a special meeting at the Federated church at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

SHOOTS HIS WAY OUT TO PREVENT A "DEATH RIDE"

Constable Ray Hance Kills Two Men Near Seneca In Defense

SENECA, Mo., Jan. 13.—(P)—A shotgun found in the home of Logan E. Hunt and Carl Smith after they were slain last night by constable Ray Hance of Seneca in a gun fight in which one of the dead men wounded Hance in the hand, is the principal clue by which officers hope to link the dead men with the murder of Norman E. Mitchell, Seneca druggist, Coroner Corley Thompson of Neosho announced today.

The announcement was made as the coroner prepared to hold an inquest at 3 P. M. into the deaths of Hunt and Smith. A jury of farmers was sworn in at the morgue of the Buzzard Undertaking company here preparatory to holding the inquest at the scene of last night's shooting east of here.

SENECA, Mo., Jan. 13.—A dramatic account of fighting his way out between the guns of two men and killing both was related from a hospital bed today by Constable Ray Hance.

The officer, who was wounded in the hand, said he went last night to the farm home of Logan E. Hunt, 37, to ask him if he knew anything about the mystery slaying of Norman E. Mitchell, wealthy Seneca business man, and had to kill both Hunt and Carl (Kid) Smith, 34, to prevent being taken on a threatened "ride."

The constable reported finding a saved-off shotgun and buckshot similar to that sought in the Mitchell slaying. Sheriff Beech W. Bridges said "we have no evidence connecting the men with the Mitchell murder but we are working on that theory."

Constable Hance disclosed today that on the night Mitchell was slain officers picked up an empty 12-gauge shotgun shell near tracks made by an automobile. The constable said he picked up the same type shell last night at the Hunt home.

State Highway Patrolman said George Kahler said the shotgun shells found in the Hunt home "were last manufactured in 1935" and contained buckshot of similar design to that found in Mitchell's body.

Hance said he entered the farmhouse on highway No. 60, four miles east of Seneca, about 7 o'clock, found Hunt sitting on a box and then felt Smith stick a shotgun in his back.

"Hunt put me between him and the kid and started toward the front door," Hance related.

Shot It Out
"I decided right then if they were going to kill me, it was going to be in the house and not in the car. I seized Hunt's hand that held his pistol and tried to hold him between me and Smith. Hunt fired one shot that went through my overcoat. He fired again, hitting my hand. About that time I got out my pistol. I shot him twice. When he fell, Smith pointed his shotgun at me. I let him have it. He fell and the shotgun went off. It put out the only light in the place, a kitchen lamp."

Hunt died instantly. Smith died in a Neosho hospital. On the way there, according to Prosecutor Wayne Slankard, he was questioned but replied, "I may be going to die but I'm not telling you anything."

Sheriff Bridges said Smith recently completed a 30-day jail sentence at Neosho in connection with the theft of apples. He added that Hunt also had "a record."

Hance has been working on the Mitchell case since the business man was killed by a charge of buckshot fired through a basement window of the Mitchell home December 28 as Mitchell was firing his furnace.

The constable said he went to the Hunt farmhouse solely because "I had a hunch."

COMMITTEE OF HOUSE MAKES A CUT IN BUDGET

Turns In Some Reductions of Own on Treasury-Postoffice Funds

FAVOR INCREASES ON SOME ITEMS

Some of The Principal Slashes Enumerated In Action Taken

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The house appropriations committee, approving budget cuts and making some of its own, turned out a treasury-postoffice department appropriations bill today that was $60,862,722 less than the previous one.

The committee said, however, "It should be borne in mind" that several deficiency appropriations might be necessary for the current fiscal year, particularly for the federal land banks and the farm mortgage corporation, and would correspondingly diminish the saving.

The bill carrying a total of $1,515,552,286 for the two departments during the fiscal year beginning next July 1 won the committee's approval and went immediately to the house floor for debate. Leaders hoped to pass it early next week.

The treasury total of $725,862,627 compared to $791,666,955 for the current fiscal period, included a reapportionment of $115,000,000 for the old-age pensioners reserve account which the committee listed as an unexpected balance from the current appropriation.

Next year's item for the post-office department was $789,689,659 compared to $784,748,053 for fiscal twelve-months ending next June 30.

Some Items Increased
The committee slashed $7,916,050 from the budget bureau's estimates although it recommended substantial increases in some items, including $1,300,000 for domestic airmail.

It approved a net increase of $789,687 for the coast guard to permit the purchase of two new harbor patrol boats and three amphibian planes. This brought the coast guard item to $25,438,527.

The committee cut $500,000 from the treasury's request for funds to finance the sale of "baby" bonds asserting it did not approve "expenditure of any considerable sums for advertising for other expensive methods of pushing sales."

Some of the principal reductions were:

$140,000,000 from the $500,000,000 originally proposed as the annual item for the old age reserve account.

Elimination of a $20,000,000 subscription to the paid-in surplus, of the federal land banks.

Elimination of a $15,000,000

CHANGING BUSINESS LEADERS

In what respects do the typical towering corporation executives and other leading American men of affairs today contrast with their prototypes of twenty years ago? asks B. C. Forbes in Forbes Magazine.

Briefly:
They have become more conscious of their social responsibility.

They keep closer to their work folks.

They are more democratic.

They are less individualistic, better teamworkers.

A larger percentage are college-bred.

A larger proportion have sprung from the legal profession.

Fewer notable organizations are today headed by founders.

It is as common today as it was uncommon twenty and more years ago for a big enterprise to have two senior executives, a chairman and a president.

Nepotism has been markedly eliminated.

Arrogancy, highhandedness, an attitude of individual proprietorship have waned.

Consulting and conferring with associates have come into vogue.

Expert advice and aid in developing new markets are far more widely enlisted, especially the services of eminent advertising agencies.

Infinitely greater pains are taken to keep tabs on the pulse of consumers.

Millions are spent today in research against only thousands twenty years ago.

Rule-of-thumb managerial methods have been supplanted by the most diligent efforts to evolve scientific methods, to substitute ascertainment of facts for "hunches," to gauge probabilities rather than trust to guesswork.

Executives rather than "employers" guide the destinies of American industry today—hired men rather than "proprietors" or "rugged individualists."

MUSIC SOOTHES DEPOSITORS

Doron K. Antrim in the Rotarian Magazine.

The other day I was in a hurry to get some cash. Rushing over to the bank, I found long queues at every window.

Then suddenly, without any preliminaries—music, soft and subdued. An orchestra was playing a Jerome Kern selection. I looked around with some of the other customers for sight of the musicians.

On edge with curiosity, some days later I asked a teller about this admixture of money and music.

"It's just something a little extra we are offering to our customers," he laughed. "The music is piped in over telephone wires from a central studio and heard through amplifiers. Selections range from popular to classical and they're all serenade-like and subdued; you can take 'em or leave 'em. So far we have found it particularly effective during rush hours, making waiting less tiresome."

Looking further into these strange goings-on, I found other banks here and there that were trying out the idea. One in Chicago was having an electric organ played during the day's peak business hours.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Barring some unforeseen hitch, Hollywood is the next to be tagged "it" in the Administration's drive against monopolies.

The decision to tackle the big movie distributors and producers was no sudden one. They have been under quiet scrutiny by the Justice Department for nearly a year.

Cause of the inquiry was numerous complaints by independent theatre operators that the big distributors were discriminating against them by refusing to let them have "first run" pictures. These new feature films are given to theatres owned or controlled by the big boys, and the independents are left out on the limb.

In moving on the Hollywood moguls, the Justice Department reversed its previous policy toward them. For many years, the department had an arrangement with "Czar" Will Hayes whereby complaints against the industry were referred to him for adjustment. But when trust busting anti-monopoly division he put an end to this.

Under Jackson a complaint is handled as the basis for possible legal action. There have been no soft-peddling out-of-court negotiations.

The suit against the movie satraps may introduce a new anti-monopoly technique. In view of Judge Geiger's dismissal of a Milwaukee grand jury just as it was about to vote on indictments against the Big Three movie makers, government lawyers may sidestep a grand jury altogether. Instead they would take the movie case directly to a federal court with a request for an injunction against alleged monopolistic practices.

Some of the government legalists advocate an even more drastic course, namely an injunction requiring the producers to get rid of their movie houses.

Flying First Lady
Someone remarked to an airline official, "You must be thankful for the flying First Lady. Gives you a lot of free advertising."

The reply was: "I wish Mrs. Roosevelt would never come near an airplane again. That lady gives us heart failure."

If anything should happen to a plane carrying Mrs. Roosevelt, the damage to passenger aviation would be incalculable. And the First Lady, usually acting on impulse, gives the airline no time to make a special selection of crew and equipment.

If the weather is not absolutely perfect, the airline is caught in a predicament. If it continues the flight, it takes upon itself the responsibility for the life of the First Lady; if it grounds the plane the event is widely publicized and unfavorable attention is drawn to the airline.

Opposition To Frank
One unique feature of the Roosevelt Administration is opposition by Jewish friends of the New Deal to Jewish appointments. Latest instance of this occurred in connection with the SEC appointment of Jerome Frank, hard hitting ex-counsel of the AAA.

Frank's name was proposed for Securities-Exchange Commissioner by some very powerful non-Jews, among them Judge Pecora (Italian descent) and SEC Chairman Douglas (Scotch), who made a special trip to Hyde Park last fall to push it. Joe Kennedy, a children and one for the grown-ups. What is good for the grown-ups is good for the children. It is true the adult does not require as much milk nor whole wheat or whole grain cereal as the child, but milk and cereal won't hurt the older person (unless he has an intestine sensitive to whole grain), and the adult probably can handle meat better than the child. But, in general, the child's diet is suitable for the adult.

Milk is needed for growth more than any other thing, although it is a kind of general elixir of life. For the growth of bone, the formation of teeth and the replacement of the baby teeth by the permanent set, some substances are needed more than others. Of the ones most needed calcium (lime) and phosphorus are found abundantly in whole milk. To supply the amount of calcium and phosphorus needed, the child should have one quart or four cups of milk a day, either as a drink or combined with other foods. There are many ways of putting milk into foods—cereal cooked with milk, cocoa for breakfast, cream soups, custards, fruit whips etc. Cottage cheese contains lots of protein, calcium and phosphorus.

Eggs are necessary, because a quart of milk does not supply enough protein necessary for a growing child. They also supply Vitamins A, B and some D, and fats and iron and sulphur. One egg a day is enough, and one egg and one quart of milk a day will fulfill the basic needs of a child for body building materials.

Liver Valuable to Child
Meat is not injurious to young children if ground or finely cut. Liver is an especially valuable addition to the child's diet, furnishing iron, copper and vitamins and many vital substances.

The green leafy vegetables furnish roughage and valuable minerals and vitamins. Turnip, dandelion, beet leaves, chard, cabbage, endive, parsley and spinach—there are enough to suit every purse and taste.

Spinach has come in for some new notoriety lately, when the American Medical association's council on foods reported that it "is a rich source of Vitamin A, a contributor to Vitamin C, iron and roughage to the diet." Its iron, however, "is not well utilized by infants." In former days spinach was over-touted, and dietetic experts advocated it in such large quantities that children, as well as adults, got tired of it. In small amounts, at decent intervals, it is a delicious food.

The yellow vegetables—carrots, rutabagas, yams, squash, pumpkin and corn—are valuable because the coloring matter is a chemical which can be built up into vitamins.

Cereals are high in starch, which is the energy source of the diet, and they are an economical form of this energy. They all have minerals and vitamins. Especially B, in the bran layers and, therefore, for children it is recommended that they be served in the form of whole grain.

ALL of US

Must We Agree?

Sometimes letters come from people who wish to be absolutely honest.

So they write: "I read your articles and sometimes I like them and sometimes I don't. Sometimes I agree with you, but there are other times when I don't see how you can hold the opinions that seem to be yours. I hope you don't mind my frankness."

No, I don't. How could I? How could anybody expect anybody else to agree completely with him? It is not possible. It is a wild goose chase, a vain endeavor; it cannot be expected and that ideal should not be desired.

The joy of human relationship is in variety. That man is fortunate who does not, even after 20 years, understand his wife; and that woman is better than happy who is still being surprised by her husband.

The thing we look back wistfully for in the youth we know was that wild sense of unfamiliarity of the world and that eager desire to explore, to search, to analyze, to dissect and to talk about the unfamiliar and fascinating business of being alive.

No, each moment is different, each flower is unique, each slice of bread is patterned differently from the pieces alongside, and it is futile to expect two people to be alike or to agree at every point with every twist and turn or infinite variation of their characters.

You live in an apartment. I live in a separate house. You have red hair. Mine is gray. You are a woman. I am a man. You've been around the world. I have not. You like baseball, but give me football. . . . So it goes. . . . In trivial ways or in deeper experiences, we have known two lives forever separate.

No two people I have known can live calmly together. Even two who love each other may hate fiercely for an instant. And even two who hate will love each other for a flash of time and then fly worlds apart. . . .

What They Say

W. H. Eichholz (Smithton, letter to Pettis County Grand Jury)—Year after year our Circuit Judge of Pettis County included with his instructions to the Grand Jury asking them to investigate tax evasions. In the past some have refused to act even after proper information was brought to their attention. This evil has continued to grow until according to the report of the State Tax Commission two billion dollars or one-third of the taxable wealth of the State is evading taxation. This evil has probably contributed as much or more to the foreclosure of farms and homes and the breaking down of the morale and disrespect for Law by the people of our Nation than any one act as it has mostly been practiced by leaders of our Country. Isn't it a wonder that the law violation among the youth and poorer people isn't greater than what it is since most of the people know how many of the wealthier class violate the tax laws and so little has been done about it in our Country? Isn't it time that our wealthier people are compelled to pay their just taxes and obey the law of our land the same as the poorer and persons with property that is visible.

In my experience in the Farm Debt Adjustment work over the State and as a member of the Pettis County Farm Debt Adjustment Committee, I find that you, the Grand Jury, are the only body of men in Pettis County at this time that have the power to call in persons and records that will place the necessary information before you so that a vast amount of hidden wealth can be placed on the tax books of Pettis County.

A copy of this has been sent to the following: Circuit Judge, Prosecuting Attorney, Assessor County Court Collector, Attorney General, and to all the newspapers in the County asking that it be published. I shall also tell you how you may proceed to get the necessary information.

I hope and believe that you will do your duty as the oath of grand jurors provides.

So how could I, or you, expect anybody to agree, point for point, opinion by opinion? . . . I wouldn't want that to happen. I wouldn't know what to do with such a situation if it arose. I couldn't explain it. I'd be bored or I'd be scared. . . . And how about you?

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones.—Proverbs 17:22.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
CONSTANCE CORBY—heroine; richest girl in the world.
BRET HARDESTY—hero; bridge builder.
RODNEY BRANDON—Connie's fiancé.
KATIE BLYN—Connie's "double."

Yesterday, beginning her adventure on a transcontinental bus, Connie met an interesting young man. He gives her his newspaper and a moment later Connie almost cries out.

CHAPTER VI
ON the front page of the paper, staring back at her, was her own likeness! At least it was a girl who looked as she should have, her slight figure bunched into Connie's own big polo coat, her proud little head flung back.

"RICHEST GIRL SUFFERS BREAKDOWN" flared a banner headline. Connie followed the story:

"Constance Corby, reputedly the richest girl in the world, has suffered a nervous breakdown. Her physician has ordered a complete change and rest. Her million dollar yacht has been chartered, its destination kept secret."

"Rodney Brandon, to whom Miss Corby's engagement was announced just last night, told reporters he was unaware that his fiancée was ill. . . ."

"Oh. . . so that's how worried he is about me!" Connie murmured.

"Did you say something?" the young man next to her asked.

She shook her head. If she had, she had not meant to do so. Then, prompted by some mischievous sprite, she spoke aloud, "I was only thinking. . . . It's too bad about Constance Corby; you know, the richest girl in the world. Oh, if I could be her, for a little while!" This last was the fierce desire expressed by the real Katie.

The young man glanced down at the paper. There was a flicker of amusement—or was it scorn?—in his brown eyes. "You wouldn't want to be her," he said. "You're better off than she is. Happier. Don't you know that's one thing money can't buy?"

Connie was surprised that he should say just that. Her grandfather's words, almost. Her own to Katie Blyn. "What makes you think I'm happy?" she asked; then, wistfully again: "Money can buy so many things." She felt as though she were Katie Blyn, envying that other girl. She knew now, for the first time, how other girls felt about the real Constance Corby.

"How do I know? Because you show it—when you held that woman's baby, for instance. It was shining in your eyes." His own eyes grew serious. "The things money can buy don't matter," he added firmly.

Connie decided he was a young man who was very positive as to what he thought about everything. "How did you find that out?" she asked.

"The hardest way," he answered slowly. "Just by living. That's the only way any one ever learns anything."

"You sound like a philosopher," Connie ventured. He was talking to her as no one else had ever talked, as though she were just another person. No man had ever talked to Constance Corby like that. They always remembered she was a girl who was exceptionally rich; they never let her forget that.

She wished this young man would go on talking.

He laughed, a low, amused chuckle. "I haven't had much philosophy—not formally, anyhow. What little I know comes from contact with the raw material. Men who work with their hands. Hoboes. Even tramps. But I seem to be talking a lot about myself," he broke off. "Suppose you tell me something about you?"

"THERE'S nothing to tell," Connie said quickly.

"Not even your name? Where you're going?"

"I'm not sure where I'm going—yet. My name's Katie Blyn."

"I like that," he said, as she had said to its real owner. "No nonsense about it. Sensible and plain."

"I suppose you think I'm like my name?"

"Well. . . yes." He looked at her, as though considering what she was like for the first time.

"But a girl like Miss Corby, she's beautiful." Connie was prompted further by that spirit of mischief.

He shook his head. "Not to me, she isn't. I wouldn't like her, even a little bit."

Connie felt the color rise in her cheeks. "She may be very nice," she defended. "She may be just like every other girl."

"Too much money changes people," the young man said. "They aren't real. They can't be."

"Maybe she'd like to be,

"I'd love to see it," Connie said.

"I'd love to go there."

STILL "TOPS"... after 31 Years As a Tobacco Auctioneer

Veteran Jim Edwards tells why tobacco experts prefer Luckies 2 to 1...

"I recently sold 489,000 pounds of tobacco in one 6 1/2 hour day," says Mr. J. N. Edwards of Farmville, North Carolina.

"There was a buyer, naturally, for every one of those 489,000 pounds... But there was as much difference between the best grades and the inferior, as between a pretty girl and a homely one.

"At auction after auction, I've seen Lucky Strike go after the prettiest lots of tobacco. It's no wonder Luckies taste so good. I've smoked them since 1917.

"And another thing... even after yelling out tobacco bids all during a seven hour day, Luckies are still just as easy as ever on my throat."

Only Lucky Strike offers you the finest tobacco plus the throat-protection of the exclusive process "It's Toasted". This process takes out certain irritants found in all tobacco—even the finest.

Men who know tobacco from A to Z—experts like Mr. Edwards—are surely good judges of cigarettes... Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

Concerted Piano
Music Topic At
H.G.S. Club Meet

The Helen G. Steele Music Club began 1938 with one of the most outstanding programs of the club year Wednesday at the Heard Memorial Club House when Miss Alberta Roach as chairman presented "Concerted Piano Music."

Preceding the meeting the board entertained with a luncheon complimentary to Mrs. A. B. Ridgway who is moving to St. Louis and who for many years has been librarian of the club. Mrs. Arthur Klang, chairman of education, introduced Mrs. C. F. Scotten, chairman of festivals and rural school music, who in turn introduced Mr. Scotten, Pettis county superintendent of school. Mr. Scotten briefly told of the introduction of music into the rural schools of the county, how the music is chosen each year and of the talent shown by the students. The students are presented to the public in community gatherings, P. T. A. meetings and also in the "Hidden Talent" programs. Each year progress is made and with the help of music clubs and others who are interested it is hoped that Pettis County may be able to send representatives to the National Educators Conference to be held in St. Louis the latter part of March.

Miss Alberta Roach was then introduced and presented the following program.

Duo, "Jazz Study No. 1," E. B. Hill—Misses Ethel Wasserman and Wilma Posson.
Duet, "Polonaise," Schubert—Miss Alberta Roach and Noidine Brashear.
Duo, "Valse Caprice," C. Gilbert Strauss—Miss Lillian Fox and Mrs. Oscar DeWolf.
Solo, "Nocturne, E. Minor," Chopin—Miss Ethel Wasserman.
Duo, "Minuet a l'antico," Siebaeck—Mrs. Glen Moser and Miss Lillian Fox.
Duo, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach, arranged by Myra Hess—Mrs. Henry Salveter and Miss Mabel DeWitt.
Duo, "Maleguena," E. Lecuona—Misses Martha Redmond and Alberta Roach.

These were all very lovely numbers and showed much work. "Maleguena," played by Miss Redmond and Miss Roach was one of the "hits of the day," bringing forth much applause and many compliments.

Mrs. E. F. Yancey, president, returned to the club today after her visit in New York and told of some of the music she heard while there. She heard the Rochester Symphony, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and the Radio City Symphony. Each Sunday she attended a church which has one of the loveliest choirs in the city and which sings music only by Bach.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson, program chairman, announced the program for January 26th. It is to be "American Music," a continuation of the study of "Music of Many Lands," with Miss Martha Redmond as chairman. Mrs. Johnson also announced the Sedalia Symphony concert, Tuesday, January 18th with Mrs. Ray Havens as guest soloist. Mrs. Ray Hunt announced chorus practice for January 19th.

This program is to be presented to Sorosis on Monday, January 24th.

Circle 6, of the Sedalia Garden Club, will meet at the home of Mrs. A. L. Pringle, 722 East Broadway at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, with Mrs. J. E. Bohon and Mrs. E. W. Rucker assisting hostesses.

February the 25th has been set as the date for the Smith-Cotton Junior-Senior Prom, which is an annual dance at the Convention hall. The dance will be formal. The orchestra has not been selected.

They spent part of the day with Mrs. Smasal's and Mrs. Shafer's father, Joseph Goth, then they went to the home of a sister, Mrs. Leo Brownberger, who had given birth to a daughter on December 23, 1937. There they were joined by a sister, Mrs. George Schmieding and husband of Walhalla, Neb., who had been visiting relatives in Nevada and also by a brother, Rufus Goth, wife and family. There are ten children and fifteen grandchildren. All were present.

They are Mr. and Mrs. George Schmieding of Walhalla, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smasal and children; Mrs. Charles Shafer and children, all of Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brownberger and children, Verna Lee and Mary Jane and Charles M.; Mrs. Frank Schmieding and Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Goth and children, Adrian, Earl, Wilfred, Ralph, Rose Mary, Jerome, Mark, Paul and Mildred, all of Germantown, Mo.; and the father, Joseph Goth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schmieding will come to Sedalia for a visit with their sisters, before returning home.

Ridgway and Mr. Ridgway, who have been among Sedalia's best known residents for many years, have moved, Mr. Brandt going to Wilburton, Okla., to spend some time with a daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ridgway to Webster Groves to reside.

Mr. Brandt left Wednesday for Wilburton, where he will be with his daughter, Mrs. Ben Thomas and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ridgway left this afternoon, driving to Webster Groves, and Mr. Ridgway, who has been a traveling salesman for a St. Louis firm for almost fifty years, will be in the offices of the company.

The Ridgway home, at 804 West Fourth street, has been rented to Miss Alma Borchers, now residing at 906 West Fourth street.

Mr. Brandt and Mr. and Mrs. Ridgway were honor guests at a reception at the First M. E. church Monday night, given by the official board and the Sunday school, attended by the church membership. Sunday afternoon the pastor, Rev. Quincy R. Wright and Mrs. Wright entertained at a small tea at their home, 323 West Fourth street for the three, having as guests the church trustees and their wives.

FINANCIAL NEWS

LIGHT TRADING ON STOCK MARKET

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Gold mines leaped forward in today's stock market, and left many recent leaders standing still.
While a few utilities, tractions and specialties managed to work into a higher territory, numerous issues were unchanged and small minus signs were plentiful at the close.
The market slipped at the opening, but a little support later enabled it to reduce or cancel losses running to a point or so.

Most speculative forces were inclined to conserve their ammunition in view of another sharp slump in the French franc, due partly to fresh political and labor trouble and fears the unit may again be revalued downward.

Business sentiment seemed somewhat improved and hopes next Wednesday's conference between the president and National Industrialists would develop a recovery program tending to restrict offerings.

Volume was negligible, the ticker tape leading throughout. Transfers were around 300,000 shares.

TEN MINERS LOSE
THEIR LIVES IN A BLAST AND FIREMasked Rescue Crew Into Fumes and Debris
To Bring Out Bodies

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—(P)—Ten and possibly eleven miners lost their lives Wednesday in an explosion and fire which shattered two divisions of the Harwick mine 20 miles east of Pittsburgh. After almost 12 hours of valiant battling through fumes and debris hundreds of feet underground, a masked rescue squad of 30 reported finding the tenth body.

An eleventh man is missing, E. W. Judy, vice president and general manager of the Duquesne light company, which owns the mine, said.

Judy reported eight of the bodies had been brought to the surface but that the last two, badly burned, were too hot to be removed immediately.

Five of the men were identified. He said they were: Thomas Keffer, 38; Joseph Koprivinkar 41; Frank Harpster; Joe Prelensnik and Matt Anderson, 59 mine foreman.

Hundreds of residents of the little mining village of Harwick milled about the tipple during the long hours the rescue crew fought its way through fumes and debris below.

For hours after the blast, shortly before noon, there was a chance that the 11 missing men might have survived.

Early last night one man, George Bertram, a trackman, was found unharmed.

Six hundred are normally employed in the mine, situated about 20 miles from Pittsburgh, but the workings were idle today and only 46 foremen and repairmen were underground at the time of the blast.

Scenes at the mouth of the mine were similar to those of January 25, 1904 when a blast tore through the mine, killing 182. Only one man escaped that explosion.

Sobbing women and children gathered with the idle miners from the little community of Narwick as rescue crews climbed into the elevator and went down the shaft.

W. J. Fene, an engineer of the U. S. Bureau of mines, estimated the explosion occurred about two miles from the main opening of the vast pit, and about a half mile from an air shaft.

E. W. Judy, vice president of the Harwick coal company, who directed rescue operations, said the men killed apparently were victims of carbon monoxide.

Two men overcome by the fumes were taken to a hospital and two others were treated by physicians at the mine.

Judy said these six were found near the air shaft, several hundred yards from the scene of the explosion.

The blast apparently was confined to two mine sections. Rescue crews were attempting to curtain off openings along the walls in order to force a current of fresh air to the trapped men. At 6 p. m., rescue leaders expressed belief they would not reach the blast area for six or seven hours.

The dead were identified by mine officials as Thomas Keffer, an assistant foreman, father of four children and Joseph Koprivinkar, a "fire boss," father of two children.

TUNEFUL SONGS IN CONCERT PROGRAM

By Rabbi Samuel Halevi Baron Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (1756-1791), Austrian musician and composer who was one of the world's most genial geniuses, created an amazing number of great compositions of all kinds before he died in poverty in his thirty-sixth year. He is to be represented on the next local symphony program by a brilliant vocal number, "Alleluja," from the motet "Exultate," a piece of church music for interpolation in a High Mass.

Harry T. Burleigh (born 1866), a contemporary American Negro described as "the most distinguished of the Negro musicians" and as a "composer by divine right," has sung on the concert stage and in the choirs of churches and synagogues in his native Erie, Pa., and in New York City for many years. His compositions include art songs, like five of Laurence Hope's "India's Love Lyrics," as well as Negro music. He has done a great deal to arrange in modern musical settings the Negro spirituals originating on the old plantations and in the fervor of the old-time camp-meeting. Of these, the familiar "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" will have a place on the coming symphony program.

Both Mozart's "Alleluja" and Burleigh's arrangement of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" are to be sung next Tuesday evening at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium by Gladys Hoover Havens, contralto soloist. Mrs. Havens will be accompanied in this group of songs by the Sedalia

GOLDEN GLOVERS IN ACTION

Top: The outstanding bout of the evening was that between Denver "Buck" Miller, and Franklin Meldellen, the latter of Kansas City. The two 112-pounders swapped punches for three rounds with Miller receiving the decision. Miller, left, is seen taking one on the neck, and a second after this picture was taken Miller drove his right glove into Meldellen's face. The start of this punch can easily be seen in the picture. Referee lia Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Abe Rosenthal. She will sing an additional group of numbers later on the concert program.

Bottom: The second main bout of the evening was between Jimmy Baylor shown covering up with Roy Banks of Montserrat. Banks is seen driving at Baylor. Baylor came out of his huddle with a whirlwind styles to knock Banks around the ring and collect the decision of the judges and referee. The two colored boys put on a good show.

OPENING SCENE AND ENDING IN SAME DAY

Motion pictures are never filmed in continuity, but one of the rarest happenings in the industry—the photographing of the opening and closing scenes of a production within a few minutes of each other—occurred one day on the Warner Bros. production "The Perfect Specimen."

This is the Warner Bros. comedy-drama coming Sunday to the Liberty theatre.

On location at Flintridge, Errol Flynn and Joan Blondell, stars of the picture, made the opening scene of the picture about ten-thirty in the morning. They changed into different costumes and had made the closing scene on the same setting at 11 o'clock.

Between the two scenes in the finished picture, however, is the product of six weeks of very hard work. Michael Curtiz directed, from a story by Samuel Hopkins Adams.

Poisonous Waste

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the beginning of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

RECIPES IN TRANSIT

(By Martha Logan)

Last week it was my good fortune to take a short week-end trip on a new streamlined train. As I sat there, speeding along in the luxurious comfort of this modern train, I couldn't help overhearing a conversation. It fascinated me because it was about food and because two very practical, well-dressed home-makers were the speakers. Their conversation was so typical that it bears repeating. Just for convenience I'll name the women for the gay colors of their hats—

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Blue. With a very French accent, Mrs. Green said: "Aren't you glad the holidays are over so you can settle down to a more quiet schedule? We always plan real French holidays at our home and that means so much work."

To which demure Mrs. Blue said: "Oh, yes, I'm genuinely glad it's all over. Holidays mean work for me, too, because we have turkey, ham, pudding, cookies and candies to prepare. My family enjoys all this and I would feel mean if each year wasn't as elaborate as the one before."

"Don't you have a hard time trying to plan easy menus to suit the jaded January appetites?" asked Mrs. Green. "No, indeed," said Mrs. Blue. "As long as I can remember we have used a special menu in our family that never fails to bring the folks rushing to the table. It's my favorite for January but the family will eat this combination any meal of the day and any time of the year."

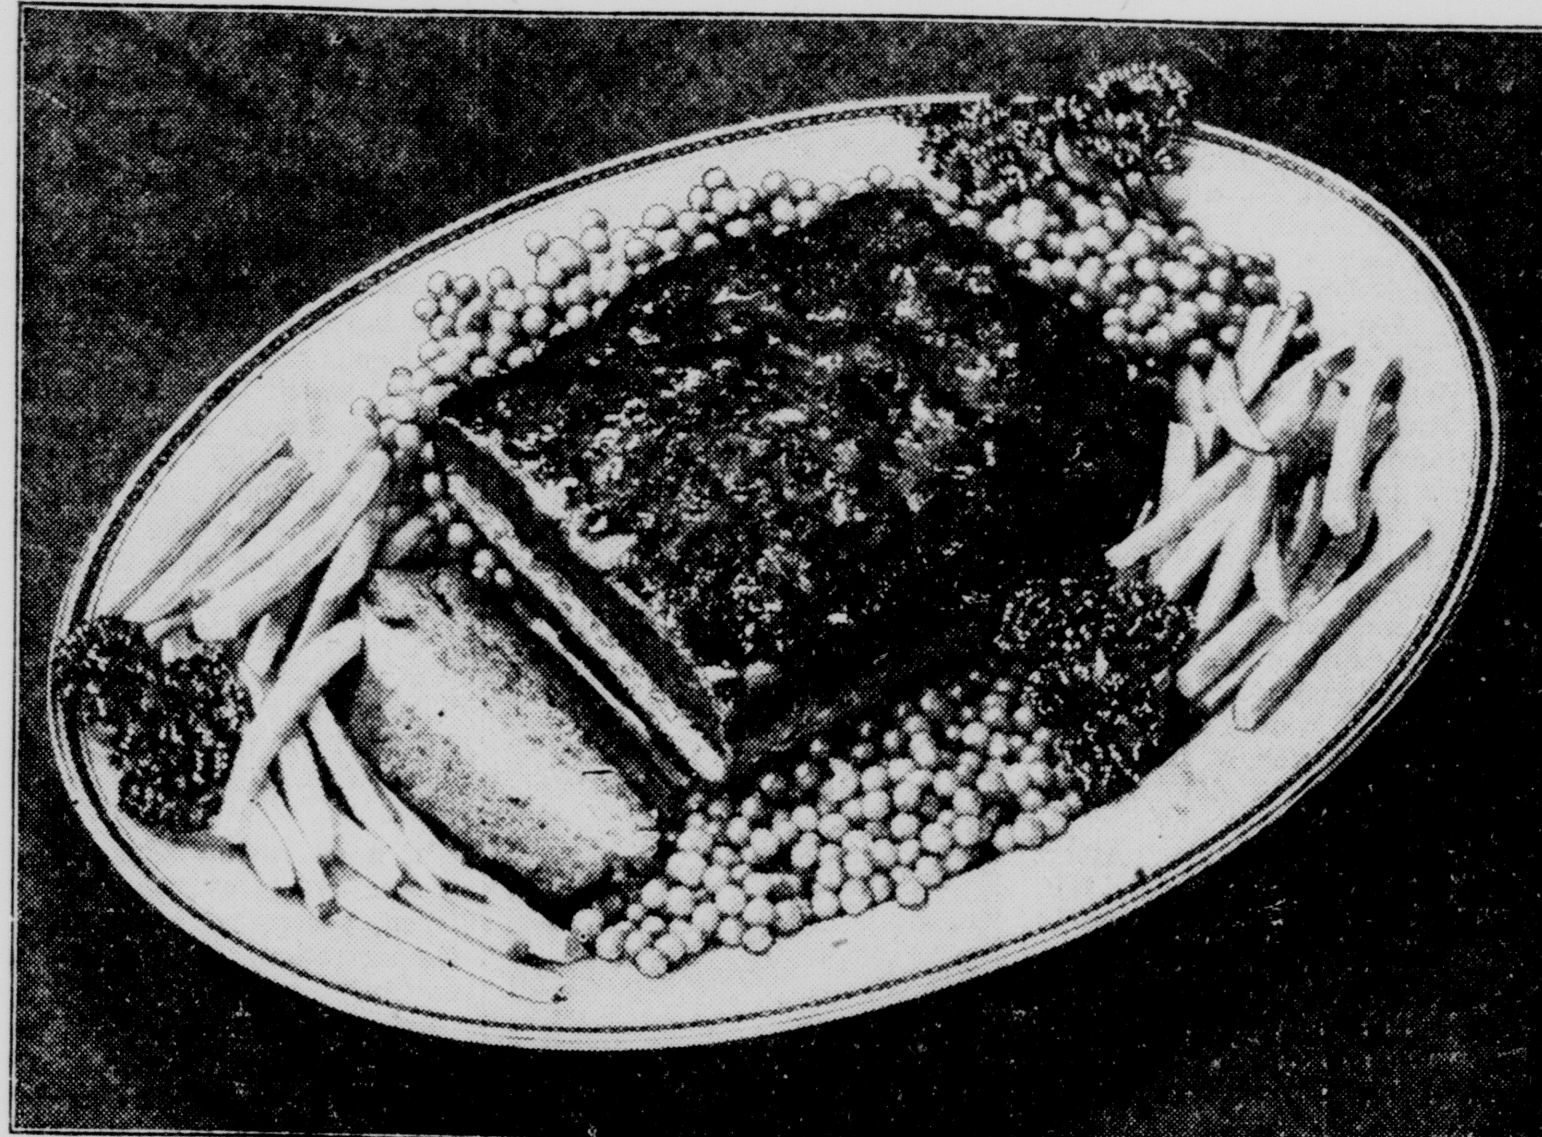

"That sounds like an idea from Utopia. What is it?" "It's just a homey, American menu that is easy to prepare, inexpensive to serve and liked by everyone. If you want to jot it down here's my pencil. We call this an Old-Fashioned Supper. First we have a glass of chilled pineapple and orange juice, mixed in equal parts. Then comes one big platter of golden fried mush and one piled high with links of pure pork sausage. To satisfy everyone's taste, we have a bowl of red jelly, a pitcher of warm maple syrup and extra amounts of butter. I almost forgot the pot of coffee at my elbow and the jug of milk at little Susan's plate. We're always far too replete for dessert."

"Very often my husband brings home some of the men from the office when we have this Old-Fashioned Supper and it's grand to see the way they enjoy such simple food. I always tell our friends to forget company manners and just eat sausage and mush to their heart's content. That's just what they do too!" "Did you say sausage?" asked Mrs. Green as she hastily wrote along. "I like that because one time we could have link sausage, the next time sausage patties, and still again little balls shaped from bulk sausage. This is a breakfast combination too! It sounds so good that I'm going to try it Tuesday night." By this time I was almost famished because sausage and mush "hits the spot" for me. Unfortunately I couldn't tell these women all the precautions to take when buying (and cooking) sausage but I can tell you. First, always buy a branded, quality sausage to be sure of a pure

Bread Dressing in Meat Loaf

Meat loaves are legion, but this one really deserves a place in your file for frequent use. A well-seasoned layer of bread dressing repotes between two layers of your favorite meat loaf. The recipe we used is:

Mix together 2 pounds ground beef, 1 chopped green pepper, 1 chopped onion, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, pinch of sage, 1 cup dry bread crumbs, 1/2 cup water and 1 egg. Mix well. Make a dressing, using 2 cups dry bread crumbs, 1/2 to 1 cup water, 1/4 cup each chopped onion and celery, 1/4 cup melted butter. Season. Make a layer of 1/2 the meat loaf on a baking sheet. Press to 1 inch thick. Cover with dressing. Pat out remaining meat on top. Cover with 2 strips of bacon or salt pork. Bake in a moderate oven 1 hour. Serve with buttered carrots and peas.

SPANISH BEANS — One cup navy beans, one-fourth pound ground pork, one cup cooked or canned tomatoes, one-half cup minced carrot, one small onion, minced; one medium sized potato, cut fine; one cup chopped celery, one-fourth cup rice, uncooked; 2 teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon Mexican chili powder. Wash beans, and soak over night in cold water. Next morning drain off water and add other ingredients and three pints cold water. Let come to good boil, then simmer gently until beans are tender three hours or a little longer.

A New Cake To Bake

ASK the masculine half of the family, and man or boy, he will choose almost invariably chocolate cake when asked what type he likes. Here is a new kind of chocolate cake with a dash of cinnamon spice and lemon juice that adds an intriguing flavor. This recipe makes two large fluffy layers and when they are put together and covered with a snowy white Seven Minute frosting and sprinkled with grated chocolate, they make a delectable cake for the most festive occasion. To give the men, and the entire family, a real treat add this cake to the next dinner menu.

SPANISH DOWRY CAKE

2 cups soft wheat flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 squares bitter chocolate
1 cup sour milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon lemon juice

ing, add sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Add 1 unbeaten egg and beat well. Add second egg and beat 2 minutes more. Add melted and cooled chocolate. Add flour mixture and milk alternately. Mix well. Add vanilla and lemon juice. Pour into two 9-inch greased layer cake pans and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 25 minutes. When cool, put together with Seven Minute Icing and cover the sides and top. Sprinkle grated chocolate over the top.

SEVEN MINUTE ICING

2 egg whites, unbeaten
1 1/2 cups sugar
5 tablespoons cold water
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Put all ingredients except vanilla in upper part of double boiler. Beat with rotary beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beating constantly, and cook seven minutes or until icing will hold its shape. Remove from fire, add vanilla and beat until cool and thick enough to spread.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

PLANNING budget meals is a simple task this week, for housewives will find a large variety of foods very moderately priced. There are many attractive values in the meat departments. Forequarter cuts of beef will be first choice in many homes with fresh pork and lamb a good second choice. There are also fine values at the fish counters. Due to the mild weather, the production of fresh eggs is increasing, and prices for all grades of fresh eggs are lower.

There are many reasonably priced fruits and vegetables, too. Notable in this group are apples, bananas, oranges and grapefruit; also green beans, beets, broccoli, carrots, celery, lettuce, peas and spinach.

Following are three budget dinners planned to use foods in season.

Low Cost Dinner

Stuffed Meat Loaf
Baked Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts or Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Sliced Bananas with Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee

Medium Cost Dinner

Chuck Steak of Beef
Browned Potatoes
Creamed Onions
Fresh Spinach
Lettuce Salad
Bread and Butter
Orange Bavarian
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner

Grapefruit and Orange Cup
Roast Leg of Lamb
Browned Potatoes
Green Beans
Braised Lettuce Hearts
Rolls and Butter
Banana Ice Cream and Wafers
Coffee

PARKINS IS SCOTLAND'S GINGERBREAD

The Gingerbread Man is a character beloved to all children, both as a storybook character and as a tasty cake. In Scotland, Gingerbread is called Scotch Parkins. Although it is not cut as a "Gingerbread Man", it has the same delicious ginger flavor.

Scotch Parkins contains the following ingredients:

1/4 lb. butter 1/4 cup caraway
1 lb. oatmeal seeds
1 lb. molasses 1/4 cup milk
1/4 oz. pepper 1/2 teaspoon
1/4 oz. ginger soda
Rub butter into oatmeal. Warm molasses and add to mixture along with pepper, ginger and caraway seeds. Stir in milk into which soda has been dissolved. Beat mixture well and bake in greased tin. Cut into rounds when cold and serve.

FACTS AND FANCIES Party Game

If you are giving a party, whether for children or grownups, have a balloon race. Select two teams (one or more players to a team). Line both teams up at one end of the room. Place in front of each team one inflated balloon. At a given signal each team must kick, bat or fan its balloon toward the goal at the opposite side of the room. The balloons must not be carried. The team that gets its balloon across the goal first wins. It is even more fun to start the team from opposite ends of the room.

SUGGESTION ON TIGHTENING UP ON SALES CREDIT

Elimination For "High Pressure Salesman- ship" Considered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—President Roosevelt was reported today in usually reliable quarters to be negotiating in his conferences with business leaders for a curtailment of credit on installment buying.

Informed persons said he had suggested to the motor industry a tightening of sales credit in line with his previously expressed intention of eliminating "high pressure salesmanship."

This was one of the topics the President was said to have discussed with Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the General Motors corporation, and four other prominent industrialists.

One well-posted government official said the President had proposed that the auto industry limit its extension of credit on the purchase of cars to 25 per cent, but that Sloan had rejected the suggestion as too drastic.

At the same time the President criticized the automobile industry for selling cars on a 24 months credit arrangement instead of the previous 18 months, and for over-selling by telling prospective purchasers that the price was going up.

Proposal for Laws Change
William Knudson, president of General Motors, also denounced this practice in testimony before a senate committee.

In his discussions of over-selling and high pressure salesmanship, the President has tied up the question with the whole problem of industrial planning to even production.

One of the administration's advisers said cooperation between industry and government in such planning would be smoothed by revising the anti-trust laws to let business men know what they can do as well as what they cannot do under these statutes.

The President expects to send congress a message soon asking changes in these laws. One official, however, expressed uncertainty whether a production control plan would be completed for submission at this session or next.

A well-defined plan has been worked out, however, by which industry would undertake voluntarily to cooperate with a single government agency—possibly the department of commerce—in determining controlled production schedules months in advance of marketing the products.

Predicts Recession End During Year

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Predicting the present business recession would be overcome before the end of the year, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today asserted the "greatest need of the moment" is the inauguration of a nationwide building and construction program.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Green did not mention the CIO by name but asserted, the split in the ranks of labor was due to a "total disregard of unit procedure and democratic procedure. He hit, too, at proposals for incorporating trade unions."

"The 'sins and excesses of a small minority in labor' should not be seized upon, he said, as 'an excuse for subjecting the hosts of organized labor to government regulation and domination.'"

The labor leader called upon business to accept "wholeheartedly" the principles of collective bargaining, and urged the "full cooperation" of businessmen and bankers in the furtherance of "a sound and constructive legislative and economic policy."

HULL ASKS ABOUT FAILURE TO REPLY TO NOTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Secretary Hull asked Soviet ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky today why the Soviet government had not replied to an American note requesting information on the reported arrest in Moscow of Mrs. Ruth Alma Rubens, an American woman.

The secretary of state said he "invited" Troyanovsky to the state department to discuss the case but declined to reveal any details of his conversation with the Soviet envoy.

Held For Investigation.

Bruce Renfro, who gave his home as Oklahoma and who endeavored, according to the officers, to show how tough an Oklahoma could be while out on East Third street near the Falstaff Hotel, was arrested this afternoon by Officers Lawrence England and Emmett O'Brien and booked at police headquarters for investigation.

Reported Chicken Stolen

Miss Hope Hieronymus reported to the police this morning that sometime Wednesday night thieves stole twelve chickens from her farm yard.

COMMITTEE OF HOUSE MAKES A CUT ON BUDGET

fund for refund of processing taxes.

Elimination of a $1,000,000 subscription to the capital stock of the United States housing authority.

Among the larger increases were $8,700,000 to reimburse federal land banks and the federal farm mortgage corporation for a reduction in interest on farm mortgages; $5,000,000 for refunds of internal revenue taxes and $1,700,000 for salaries and expenses of the bureau of engraving.

The committee recommended appropriation of $11,000,000 to continue the three-year public building program authorized last year.

Income Under Estimate
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The post office department has estimated that its income for the year starting July 1 will be $775,000,000 — $20,000,000 less than it had figured on last November 22.

The revised estimate was transmitted by Postmaster General Farley to a house appropriations committee, which approved the treasury-post office appropriation bill today.

In a letter of December 29, Farley also reduced the estimate for the current fiscal year from $761,500,000 to $752,500,000.

The department asked congressional approval for expenditures of $793,000,000 in the next fiscal period, which would leave a deficit of $18,000,000, instead of an anticipated surplus of $2,000,000, without taking into consideration the $48,000,000 cost of subsidies, free mail and similar items.

If the latter is deducted from expenditures, the department would show what it calls a "net postal surplus" of $30,000,000.

Department officials told the subcommittee an ordinary business gain or recession was not reflected in postal receipts for about six months.

Strive For Economics
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(P)—Congress heard from Secretary Morgenthau today the opinion that the government, during the current recession, should strive to balance the budget through economies rather than more taxes.

Morgenthau's secret testimony before a house appropriations sub-committee was made public when the treasury-postoffice supply went to the house from committee.

"With the business situation as it is now," he said, "we do not feel like recommending additional taxes over and above the present tax structure."

"I think it is most important that we keep the revenue that we have on the present tax basis."

Chairman Ludlow (D-Ind) of the appropriations subcommittee inquired whether Mr. Morgenthau thought the recession would last several months or longer.

The secretary replied, "Frankly, we do not know."

"As you understand," he explained, "the country was so convinced that we would have inflation and that this administration would not be able to control runaway inflation that business generally stocked up pretty well."

"Then, when they felt that this administration would not stand for inflation and would not let prices run away, they found themselves with more than normal inventories."

"They were also convinced that we would make a serious effort to balance the budget and we will balance it if we spend $1,500,000,000 less than we spent last year."

"How much longer, in your judgment," Ludlow asked, "can we operate with a deficit and still maintain the government's credit?"

"I do not know," Morgenthau replied. "That is a pretty hard question to answer. Of course, we think we should balance the budget just as fast as we can, always keeping mind that we may have an unemployment situation."

ARREST SUSPECT IN MAIL TAMPERING

David Earhart, 27 years old, 821 East Ninth street, Kansas City, was held Wednesday by postal inspectors for investigation in connection with tampering of a mail box at 914 East Armour boulevard, that city.

Earhart, a former law school student, was arrested last Tuesday by police on complaint of Mrs. Grace G. Hillis, manager of an apartment building at 914 East Armour boulevard. Mrs. Hillis telephoned the police after she saw Earhart reading a letter in the apartment building lobby. Upon her demand, Earhart gave her the letter and fled in a taxicab. She obtained the license number of the taxicab and Earhart later was arrested.

The letter was addressed to Mrs. Glenn Carroll, 918 Armour court, Earhart denied he had tampered with a mail box or had taken the letter from it. He is a taxicab driver.

Mrs. Carroll is a former Sedalian, and recently moved to the Armour court address.

ABANDON HOPE OF FINDING BODIES OF PLANE CREW

ments had been returned here and studied, spoke only of the plane being destroyed by fire.

The Avocet's officers critically announced:

"Plane and crew lost."

No Blame on Crew
They briefly listed the items recovered and added, "No evidence of bodies."

The crew consisted of Musick, Brooks, Findley; First Officer Cecil G. Sellers, Los Angeles, 44; Paul S. Brunk, 30, junior flight officer; J. W. Stickrod, 23, Los Angeles, engineering officer; and Navigator F. J. MacLean, 42, of Alameda.

Musick was making his last flight over the Honolulu-New Zealand route which he had pioneered, as he had many other of Pan American's major lines. He had flown more than 1,000,000 miles, establishing an enviable string of world records and winning the Harmon trophy in 1935 for outstanding service in aviation.

No blame whatsoever was attached to Musick, his crew or the ground crew for the crash. President Juan T. Tippee made this clear in a statement issued in Washington in which he expressed belief "a way will be found to prevent a recurrence" of the tragedy.

It was the only accident in the nearly three years Pan American craft have been flying the Pacific, but it was the third major tragedy in American aviation within a week.

Ten were killed when a Northwest Airlines plane, piloted by the veteran Nick Mamer, crashed at Bozeman, Mont., Monday. Last week six naval fliers perished when their bombing plane plunged into the sea off Southern California.

The disaster will interrupt Pan American's new service linking America with Australia but, officials said, the flights will be renewed with a new ship.

George Penn Waives Hearing

George Penn, colored, arrested several days ago by Officer Ed Young on a charge of giving several bad checks, appeared before Judge Charles W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, this afternoon, waived his preliminary hearing on four different charges of forgery, and was bound over to the action of the criminal court.

Penn's bond was set at $2,500 on each charge.

DEATH DELAYS CASE OF "MATE TRADING"

By The Associated Press.

SALEM, Mass., Jan. 13.—The "mate-trading" divorce case of two Topsfield couples recessed abruptly today until Tuesday after the stepfather of one of the principals collapsed on the witness stand and died shortly afterward in an ante-room.

Judge Edward B. O'Brien halted the proceedings when the witness, Lyman G. Smith, 59-year-old liquor dealer and stepfather of Mrs. Raymond S. Lee, fell to the floor while about to testify.

Testimony previously had been offered by a Salem housewife, Mrs. Esther A. Davis, that it "seemed sort of an agreement" that Mr. and Mrs. Calvin M. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Lee should "swap" before leaving her home after parties.

Watson and Mrs. Lee are suing for divorce on grounds of infidelity. The alleged "wife-swapping" first was described in testimony of Lee, but his wife denied there was such an agreement.

Joseph Turner, 18, earlier today hesitantly testified that he had seen Mrs. Lee and Watson together for a week at the home of Turner's grandmother in Maine, last June.

APPEALS IN CASES OF ELECTION FRAUD

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Twelve persons convicted of conspiracy to commit election frauds at Kansas City, Mo., in the November 1936 general election, appealed today to the supreme court.

Their petition said that, following the elections, the United States government seized 255,000 ballots cast in the 460 voting precincts, and two successive federal grand juries have been investigating.

The twelve also contended that charges given to the grand jury assumed commission of the offenses and hence was prejudicial.

Those appealing were Edson M. Walker, John H. Drummond, John A. Luteran, Frank H. Adams, Lorne E. Wells, Joe R.

Wells, Jr., Leo B. Roach, John T. Little, Gilbert Stevens, Forest C. Holman, George Nepper and Frank Ditsch.

B. B. Bess Invites Public To Attend Opening New Store

Five years ago B. B. Bess, then thirty-four years of age, came to Sedalia from Glasgow, Mo., with his wife and two small children. It was in 1929, the time of the depression. Money was scarce and work hard to get. This young man shoveled coal and earned a little money for the support of his family. But he was ambitious. He cashed in one of his insurance policies, and with a little assistance from his father, C. B. Bess, of West Plains, Mo., opened a small tire and tube shop at 312 West Second street. The investment totalled $228.84. That business has grown until today it consists of two large store rooms, 310-312 West Second street, a stock of goods worth several thousand dollars, and the management is inviting the public to a formal opening from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. Friday and Saturday, January 14 and 15.

After about a year in business B. B. Bess bought out the salvage shop adjacent to his own business. He moved the stock into his place to save additional rent. He kept adding more stock from time to time, always keeping in mind the value of having standard goods, national lines, such as U. S. Tires, Philco and Universal radios, Willard batteries, Seiberling tires, and finally Willys automobiles. He kept his place open day and night, giving quick service, until at the present time he can have five trucks and cars in service in one hour.

When he bought his first electric sign he stated he thought he was broke for good, but within the next few days he will

SEDALIA BOXERS WIN 3 MATCHES FROM K. C. BOYS

Six Hundred See Local Fighters Take Three Of Four Bouts

Sedalia's Golden Glovers returning to the "square ring" Wednesday night, took three victories out of four bouts against Kansas City amateurs from the Municipal Boxing club before a roaring crowd of 600 at the Convention Hall.

Denver "Buck" Miller outpointed Franklin Medellen of Kansas City in a fight marked by flurries of in-fighting. Miller, more shifty, frequently scored with his right to Medellen's head the first two rounds and held his own in the third to win.

Billy Smith outpointed Jay Jones of Kansas City, both featherweights, after two rounds or evenly matched leather slinging. Smith did not show his speed until the third when he poured a series of hard lefts to the stomach of Jones.

Herman Tolbert of Kansas City was outpointed by Walter Martin, welterweight class, after it seemed he had the fight "in the bag." Martin was unable to find his opponent until the third. After getting the range the bout was all Martin's as he pushed Tolbert around the ring with rights and lefts.

Hughes Outpointed
"Mike" Hughes was outpointed by Ray McDaniels of Kansas City in the final bout of the evening. McDaniels showing greater experience, frequently rocked Hughes with hard rights. Hughes showed the results of his hard training when he came back for more.

The Kansas City youths were accompanied here by their coach, Charles Meyers.

The card was opened by a bout between James Wright and LeRoy Laughlin, both of Sedalia fighting in the 126 pound class. After a quiet round the boys came out for the second swinging with both hands and ended the round in a clinch half outside the ropes. Laughlin landed enough rights in the third to take the close decision.

A bout between two colored fighters followed. Marvin Payne and Bill Whitley, Sedalia bantam weights, put on an exhibition of boxing rarely trying a hard punch. Payne succeeded in being hit less and won the decision.

Murray Wins

Dean Murray outpointed Cecil Landers in the next bout which was very popular with the crowd. In the first Murray found the mark twice with hard rights to the head. The second round proceeded slowly with both fighters seeming a little tired but the third saw lot of action. Murray and Landers stood toe to toe and traded punches with both hands.

The next bout was between two colored boxers, Newton Foster scored a technical knockout over Willie Henderson in the third. This was one of the best fights on the card with both fighters swinging from start to finish. Foster rushed Henderson into a corner at the end of the second and was going strong when the referee stopped the fight in the third.

The shortest bout of the evening was between Tommie Craig and Pete Stuart, Sedalia's fighting in the 124 pound class. Craig rushed across the ring and met Stuart in his corner and knocked him out 17 seconds after the fight began.

Taking his cue from Craig, Ollie Whitley, colored light heavy weight knocked out Ted Roseman, colored, after only a minute of the first round had passed.

Close Match To Martin

Bud Martin, 145 and "Buck" Scheerer of Tipton, 145, turned in the most closely matched performance of the night. Martin came out strong in the first and second rounds—eaching Scheerer's head often with hard rights. Scheerer, seemingly little damaged, turned on the heat in the third and gained enough points to warrant a draw decision from the judges. Warren Poindexter, former athletic commissioner sitting at the ringside, was called to render the decision and he passed the task to the referee, Hugh "Spot" Curran. Curran gave the decision to Martin.

Walter McFerrin, colored middleweight, knocked out Stolte Avery, colored youth from Windsor, after 27 seconds of the third round had passed. McFerrin forced the fight in the first round and scored a knockdown in the second. In the third McFerrin stalked his opponent until he landed his right which ended the fight.

Dave Hill, heavyweight, knocked out "Little Dan" Watts, both colored, after scoring six knockdowns. Watts went down for the first time just before the bell ended the first round. He came back strong for the second but went down for two nine counts before the round ended. Neither time did he seem much hurt but took the count for a rest. In the third Hill sent him down for short counts twice before landing his Sunday punch.

"Jimmy" Baylor outpointed Roy Banks of Montserrat, both colored light heavyweights, in a bout which the crowd enjoyed. Baylor, using his "hide-away" tactics would come out from behind his gloves swinging. Both fighters seemed inclined to clinch and they spent much of their time clinging to each other in the center of the ring. When not clinched the fighters tried hard to land a knockout punch.

Father W. J. McGrane of St. Patrick's church and "Kid" Kerr, former Sedalia boxer, judged the bouts. "Spot" Curran was the third man in the ring.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(P)—At least six colleges are bidding for Bill Savoy, 205-pound Great Bend, Kans., high school star, who set a Kansas record with 31 touch-downs last season. . . . One western school was so interested it sent Bill to the Rose Bowl game "on the house." . . . Don't be surprised if Sammy Snead, the golfing ace, takes a blonde bride any day now. . . . Either Jimmy Adamick, Steve Dumas or Lou Nova will be Max Schumling's next tune-up companion in this country. . . . Bill Stewart, coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, blames the colorless play of the New York Americans for the small crowds they have been drawing of late.

Both the Baer boys will be on hand for the Braddock-Farr bout January 21. . . . Maxie meets the winner March 11. . . . Hank Greenberg, the Detroit Tiger home run specialist, took three full swings at a tempered glass door on Wall street with a bat but couldn't as much as dent the glass. . . . Harry O'Haire, a lawyer, commutes three times each week between his home at Burlington, Wis., to Milwaukee to coach the Marquette fencing team. . . . (which is what we call the old college spirit). . . . Those who should know say Jimmy Johnston will have to lay $65,000 on the line before Don Budge turns pro. . . . Golfers to watch: Dutch Harrison, Pat Sawyer and Stan Horne.

Ted Broadbribb, ex-manager of Tommy Farr, sailed from England yesterday with Ernie Weiss, middleweight champion of Austria and Jimmy Vaughan, British light-weight. . . . Both will be put under the wing of the veteran Charlie Harvey. . . . Frankie Frisch, who is putting in a tough winter attending hockey games, promises a drastic shake-up on the Cardinals next season. . . . Friends of Harry Mendel, the new six-day race czar, will pitch a testimonial dinner for him at Jack Dempsey's joint Jan. 31. . . . Gomez, Ruffing, Dimaggio and Henrich are among the Yanks slated to get pay boosts. . . . None of the Jints were cut and most of them were raised.

The New York Post has discovered that Jonas Monheimer, a stockholder in the New York Giants, lives in Brooklyn. . . . You can bet your life Jonas doesn't go around Flatbush talking about it. . . . A "subsidized" football player told Al Sharp of the Chattanooga Times he collected anywhere from $6 to $25 per week for "doing or dying" for a leading southern school, plus room, meals, tuition and books. . . . We would say the guy did all right. . . . Jimmy Farrell, (Johnny's brother and a first class pro in his own right) is looking much better after his operation. . . . Henry Armstrong stands to clean up more than $100,000 this year—if his knock-out punch holds out.

Expect Budge To Turn "Pro"

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—(P)—Ellsworth Vines, the professional tennis wizard, thinks Don Budge will turn pro after another season of Davis cup play. Vines, who meets Fred Perry in a match here tonight, said that when Budge decides to play for pay he will be signed by Jack Harris of Chicago.

SEVERAL OF FIRST SACKERS STILL BE ON INITIAL BAG

Talk of Shift on Replacement of Others In Big Leagues

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(P)—There seems to be a consistent move these days toward formation of a "let's-get-rid-of-our-first baseman" society.

Reports are drifting all over the place about this or that first sacker, who's either going to have an awful time hanging onto his job, or who is already definitely slated for replacement.

Of course, such rumors don't include all the established hands at the slot. Take Lou Gehrig, for instance; they'd have to blast to get the Yankee iron man off the spot where he's been spending those pleasant summer afternoons for 12 years, and the Tigers aren't thinking of moving Hank Greenberg—especially after the neat little tempest the Gerry Walker business stirred up.

But several of the varsity first sackers don't look secure as an infield fly right now. You have it direct from the Chicago Cub big-wigs that they're still going to try to make a first baseman out of Phil Cavaretta. They've announced that Phil will be the lad for the job and that Ripper Collins, who's somewhat better than a green hand at it, will have to fight for the berth.

At Washington, they say the club is sold on giving Joe Kuhel's work to Jim Waddell. Jim's the lad who batted for 255 and fielded for 995 in a 21-game tryout last season, while Kuhel hit .233 in 136 games and is still regarded as one of the fastest in getting around his territory.

The Boston Red Sox are toying with the idea of shifting Jimmy Foss back to the catching assignment—provided, always, that they can come up with someone to take his place at first. With that in mind, they made overtures to the White Sox for Zeke Bonura this winter, but it didn't go so well.

After spending most of 1937 watching Chubby Dean fall apart and Lou Finney fail at the first base job, Connie appears to have a real find for his Athletics in a youngster from the New York-Penn league, Buck Hasson. The whole club is carrying the torch for Hasson, ever since he fielded a perfect 1,000 on 300 chances and hit for better than .300 in a 23-game trial at the tag end of last season.

The St. Louis Browns might give Buster Beau Bell, the third year outfielder, a trial to succeed Harry Davis. That would be a good trick even if it doesn't work. Otherwise, George McQuinn, up from Newark's "wonder team," might fit.

The New York Giants may wind up with Buddy Hassett of the Dodgers or Dolf Camilli of the Phillies, if the price is right, in which event neither Johnny McCarthy nor Sambo Leslie will be doing business at the same old stand, come April. But, to date, there's been little or no progress in dealings.

BASEBALL STARS IN GOLF TOURNEY

BRADENTON, Fla., Jan. 13.—(P)—Florida's winter baseball colony set out today to try to beat golf professionals at their own game. The second annual Dizzy Dean tournament brought together a number of the neighboring pros, some visitors who had passed up the California links tour, about a score of major and minor league diamond stars and a sprinkling of just plain amateurs.

Eighteen holes of medal play was the test, devised last year in honor of Bradenton's most famous winter visitor, Jerome Herman Dean, of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The leader in the pro ranks was assured of a check for $200 and the tournament committee had $350 more to divide among others who placed.

Prizes valued at $100 awaited the winning baseballers. For the amateurs there were more prizes valued at $50.

Favorite among the baseball contingent was Paul Waner, the Pittsburgh outfielder and a classy southpaw golfer. "Ole Diz" himself figured he'd be in the running.

Others who said they planned to be on hand were Jimmy Wilson, manager of the Philadelphia Nationals; Henry Johnson, formerly of the Yankees and now with Montreal; Dennis Galehouse, Cleveland; Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh; Joe Medwick, Cardinals; Jack Russell, Boston Red Sox; Lloyd Brown, Cleveland; Paul Derringer, Cincinnati; Garland Braxton, Milwaukee; Wes Ferrell, Washington; Bill Swift, Pittsburgh; Johnny Moore, Los Angeles; Roy Spencer and Heinie Manush, Brooklyn; Johnny Cooney, Cardinals; Russell Van Atta, St. Louis Brown; Gerald Walker, Chicago White Sox; Elden Auker, Detroit and Lyn Lary, Cleveland.

ENRICO PERMITS COUNTING OUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(P)—Enrico Venturi, the Italian fistic virtuoso, who folded like a dollar accordion against Henry Armstrong last evening, had enough worries on his mind today to occupy a dozen people.

Enrico's share of the purse was held up pending an investigation of why he nestled against the canvas and permitted himself to be counted out toward the last of the sixth round, when he obviously was able to remain on his pins.

Further, he was under a month's suspension in New York state because he had weighed in for the bout three pounds over the stipulated limit of 135 pounds. Things, in fact, looked very dark for Venturi's fistic future.

His plight was matched only by the 12,000 fans who paid their way into the Garden to see him fight Armstrong, and who wound up watching the Italian give his own version of the dying swan. They, the customers, really took a lacing.

Venturi, after trying vainly for five and a fraction rounds to stay clear of Armstrong's homicidal swings, suddenly notified Referee Arthur Donovan that he had been fouled. Donovan looked appropriately blank, though some of the ringsiders had noted that Armstrong was digging in slightly below the belt.

When Donovan declined to do anything about it, Venturi registered anger and slowly, like a circus elephant, got down on the floor and stretched out. Donovan got in touch with the time-keeper and counted ten. Venturi got to his feet, fast, and started arguing with the fervor of a backwoods debating society, but Donovan was busy tilting Armstrong's hand.

HOWELL IS TO BE ASSISTANT AT L. S. U.

PITTSBURG, Kas., Jan. 13.—(P)—Edward (Blue) Howell, in a surprise move, resigned his position of head football coach at Pittsburg state teachers college last night and indicated he would become assistant coach at Louisiana State university.

Howell went to Baton Rouge, La., Monday at the request of L. S. U. officials and last night telephoned President W. A. Brandenburg requesting release from his position here. He told Brandenburg he had been offered the position as assistant to Coach Bernie Moore.

At Baton Rouge, La., Moore said he and Howell had not yet completed negotiations and that they were to confer further today.

PUBLIC THE LAST JUDGE ON BOXING SHOWS MERITS

Mike Jacobs' Aim Is To Get The People To Patronize Them

By EDWARD C. FOSTER
(Executive Secretary National Boxing Association)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 13.—(P)—The chief controversy in boxing circles as the new year begins is the effect Mike Jacobs' control of big time boxing will have on the sport at large.

Regardless of how many stars Jacobs may have signed up, or the number of arenas he controls, the public is the last judge and arbiter of all boxing shows and even though Jacobs does have a monopoly in the New York area he must of necessity put on good contests. Otherwise the public will not patronize his shows and the whole house of Jacobs will fall apart. This gentleman, however, is much too wise in the ways of the boxing game to make any such mistake.

As a matter of fact Jacobs is not concerned as to who should be the champion of any one division. His objective is to get people to patronize boxing shows.

The year 1937 brought many new faces to the front in boxing. Some great contests were produced. Patronage has run way ahead of anything in late years.

Prospects Better
Provided we do not have further business recession, we have much better prospects for boxing this year. I expect to see some of the finest shows in many years staged during 1938.

A constructive move for the betterment of boxing in the world over will be made in April when a world conference between representatives of the principal countries interested in the sport will be held in Rome.

The object is to set definite rules and regulations governing world championships and to iron out many of the misunderstandings regarding the present rating of boxers.

Other matters to come up will be a discussion of the no foul rule and the certification of boxers operating in countries other than their own. In other words boxers would be required to obtain a certificate from the body controlling boxing in his own country before being certified in the country in which he intends to work.

The most talked of boxer during 1937 was Henry Armstrong, the little Negro from the west coast, boxing experts say he is the kind of boy who comes along once in 20 years. I look for his work to electrify fans in 1938.

The most respected and loved man in the game today is Jack Dempsey who can do more to guide young boys taking up boxing than any other man in the country.

All in all, there should be more activity in boxing this year with more and better contests than we have had in a number of years past.

RATES MEDWICK GREATEST HITTER

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 13.—(P)—Carl Hubbell rates Joe Medwick the greatest hitter in baseball—even better than Joe Dimaggio of the New York Yankees.

"I might change my mind if I had to face Dimaggio every day, but I doubt it," said the New York Giants' ace pitcher, who dropped in for a week of golf with his battery mate, Gus Mancuso. "I do not see how anybody could be better than Medwick."

"Every batter has a tendency to go after bad balls at certain spots, but Medwick isn't bothered. He has so much power in his wrists that he hits bad balls about as hard as many batters hit alley pitches."

Hubbell said Brooklyn's Van Lingle Mungo has more stuff than any other National league pitcher, except possibly Dizzy Dean.

March 1, he plans to add a "budget system," for those who want to buy on the installment plan.

Not only does he sell tires, but B. B. Bess is an ordained minister in the Baptist church. He had a small church in Glasgow, and since coming to Sedalia has not been affiliated with any church as its pastor, but he performs many marriage ceremonies and conducts funerals.

Rev. Bess, his wife and their two children, Allan Bradford, 8, and Eleanor Louise, 6, live at 231 South Vermont avenue in a comfortable little home which they have bought and remodeled. Their first improvement after buying the place, was to put in a new sidewalk for the convenience of those who walked up and down the street. A furnace was installed, the house painted, improvements made, and, the "best best part of it," said Rev. Bess, "is that there is no mortgage on it."

Representatives of a number of national concerns will be here for the opening of the new place Friday and Saturday. Among them will be one from the Wilard Battery Company, from the Willys, Automobile Company, Nourse Oil Company, Borben Young Wheel Company and the U. S. Tire Company representative will show a picture relative to rubber and its use.

Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Electricity - Gas - Water Service at your finger's tip!

If you have ever spent a week or so away from home in a cabin in the woods, you know how you miss your modern utility service—and how much longer it takes to do everything.

You return to primitive living—to hauling water—lighting dim, troublesome lamps—building fires and heating pans of water. It takes twice as long to do every single household task.

Lots of fun for awhile—but you wouldn't return willingly to a permanent life without the modern utility comforts and conveniences. You now enjoy them as a matter of course—they are part of the miracle of modern living.

Your utility companies are working constantly to improve your service—to give you the very highest type of modern facilities and at the same time continue to reduce rates.

QUIET JUMPY NERVES

Sleep good. Get back lost weight.

If your stomach won't let you eat three substantial meals a day, naturally you have to draw on your reserve vitality to keep going. This soon runs out. Then you become shaky, nervous, irritable, can't sleep... feel that fate has given you a raw deal. Stimulants and drugs (the first things most people think of) only make the condition worse. You must get the gastric juices to flow more freely. You do this by taking Tanlac. It soothes the disturbed stomach and increases your appetite. You will WANT to eat. Besides, Tanlac helps put the liver, kidneys and bowels in working order, so they will be able to do a good job and make you feel well again. Tanlac does this very thing. You will be rid of your biliousness, nervousness, acid indigestion and toxic headaches. You will begin putting on the extra pounds you need. You will sleep soundly, too. Ask for Tanlac at any drug store. But get only Tanlac.
